

To Whom It May Concern:

I have known Shari Bach for the past year. Last Spring I adopted a three year old Rottweiler, named Lexi that had been rescued by Shari's foundation, Paws Unlimited.

Shari rescued Lexi from a shelter that had planned to euthanize her. Lexi was infected with round worms and had a terrible case of kennel cough. Shari provided Lexi with the necessary medical care, shelter, and love. When I adopted Lexi she spent time making sure that Lexi adjusted well to her new home.

Shari has become an important person in my life, not only because she brought me Lexi, but also because she has become a dear friend. Shari is devoted to the dogs that she rescues and she shows a tremendous amount of persistence in finding these dogs loving homes. She has a heart of gold and is responsible for many happy pets and their happy owners.

Sincerely:

Kathryn Mc Donald
