To Whom It May Concern:

Several Years ago, Paws Unlimited Foundation Inc. began assisting our clients access quality veterinary care. Due to this foundation, medical care has been made possible for sick or injured pets even when they have been abandoned or when their owners have been experiencing financial hardship. Shari Bach, founder of Paws Unlimited Inc., has contributed funds to assist pet owners who have been unable to afford treatment for their companion animals. She has indeed played guardian angel to these four legged friends and in turn has saved many lives. Whether the pet owner is elderly, disabled or on a fixed income Paws Unlimited has stepped in to assist our clients to be able to afford care for their pets. Several animals have been brought to our facility by Good Samaritans who don't have an owner to pay for their medical treatment. One case in particular that is brought to mind would be a puppy that had been hit by a car. The medical care and follow up treatment for this puppy was going to be expensive. Even though the Good Samaritan showed interest in keeping the puppy, it was clear that there were financial concerns. Paws Unlimited stepped in and paid all the bills associated with this puppy's medical treatment including preventive care such as vaccinations and neutering. I am glad to say that "Chaos" is now 8 months old and has full use of all his legs. This wouldn't have been possible without the assistance of Ms. Bach's foundation. On several occasions, Paws Unlimited has also donated food and bedding to animals in need. Paws Unlimited claims its sole purpose "is to provide food, shelter, healthcare and love for any animal in need." The Vet at The Barn has witnessed each of these kind acts and can say for certain that Paws Unlimited truly cares for all animals. We should all be fortunate enough to have crossed Shari Bach's path. If you have any questions or concerns, please don't hesitate to contact me directly.

Sincerely,

Heather Walker
